citizenship	citizenship legal status of a voting resident of a country I have citizenship in my native country.
© SpellingCity.com	© SpellingCity.com
copywriter	COpywriter one who writes advertising information Advertisements are written by a copywriter.
© SpellingCity.com	© SpellingCity.com
counterclockwise	counterclockwise moving in the opposite direction to the way clock hands move Turn the lid counterclockwise, to the left.
© SpellingCity.com	© SpellingCity.com
drawstring	drawstring cord one pulls to cinch an opening closed She pulled the drawstring to close the bag.
© SpellingCity.com	© SpellingCity.com
darkroom	darkroom a dimly lit place for developing photographs He develops photographs in the darkroom.
© SpellingCity.com	© SpellingCity.com

folklore	folklore traditional beliefs and legends of a group Each generation told stories and folklore .
© SpellingCity.com	© SpellingCity.com
forearm	forearm body part between the hand and elbow The forearm is located above the wrist.
© SpellingCity.com	© SpellingCity.com
freshman	freshman a first year high school or college student A freshman was in her first year of college.
© SpellingCity.com	© SpellingCity.com
heirloom	heirloom a valuable family object that is passed down I inherited an heirloom ring from my mother.
© SpellingCity.com	© SpellingCity.com
roundabout	roundabout not direct, circuitous We took a roundabout and circuitous route.
© SpellingCity.com	© SpellingCity.com